

Armidale Bicycle Centre are now the Armidale exclusive dealer for STAGES POWER METRES.

The Power Metre is primed to bring power based training to all disciplines of performance cycling, and is one of the most accurate ways to get the best from your training.

With advanced technology and a simple elegant design, the Stages Power meter is perfect for any cyclist. Whether you are looking for your first power meter, or are a training expert wanting to add power measurement to your road or mountain bike.

Regardless of your interest in power measurement, you'll find the Stages Power meter to be the lightest, smallest, most technologically advanced unit available today.

No matter your cycling passion – we have a Stages Power Meter for you, Come in and talk to Mark and the team today!

